I N T R O D U C T I O N

This roster is prepared for the benefit of those protection agency people concerned with rural fire defense plans within the states and territories of the United States. The contents by states are as reported by the individual State Rural Fire Defense committee chairman. Federal agency representatives were designated by their department or bureau in advance of the state report. The roster is for informational purposes to assist the people concerned with the development of rural fire defense plans and should be of particular value where interstate and administrative level coordination is undertaken.

This publication is prepared under delegation authority of the Federal Civil Defense Act, of 1950 (64 Stat. 1248), to the Department of Agriculture. The delegation requests that the Department of Agriculture "plan a national program, direct federal activities, and provide technical guidance to the States concerned with the prevention and control of fires caused by enemy attack in the rural areas in the United States." The term rural, for purposes of this delegation, has been defined as all wild lands and those agricultural lands not now under organized fire protection. The work of carrying out this delegation has been assigned to the U. S. Forest Service.

The first is a general statement of the purpose of the investigation.

The second is a statement of the scope of the investigation.

The third is a statement of the methods used in the investigation.

The fourth is a statement of the results of the investigation.

The fifth is a statement of the conclusions drawn from the results.

The sixth is a statement of the limitations of the investigation.

The seventh is a statement of the suggestions for further research.

The eighth is a statement of the acknowledgments.

The ninth is a statement of the references.

The tenth is a statement of the appendix.

The first section of the report is a general statement of the purpose of the investigation.

The second section of the report is a statement of the scope of the investigation.

The third section of the report is a statement of the methods used in the investigation.

The fourth section of the report is a statement of the results of the investigation.

The fifth section of the report is a statement of the conclusions drawn from the results.

The sixth section of the report is a statement of the limitations of the investigation.

The seventh section of the report is a statement of the suggestions for further research.

The eighth section of the report is a statement of the acknowledgments.

The ninth section of the report is a statement of the references.

The tenth section of the report is a statement of the appendix.

The first section of the report is a general statement of the purpose of the investigation.
